MEET THE IPA CLIMATE COMMITTEE

IPSO offers a Webinar providing an important opportunity for the intercultural dialogue between candidates across the psychoanalytical landscape

Sally Weintrobe, Chair (UK), Maria Luiza Gastal (Brazil), Delaram Habibi-Kohlen (Germany), Lynne Zeavin (USA), Karyn Todes (Australia), Mary-Anne Smith (South Africa), Davide Rosso (Italy), Valerie Curen (candidate UK)

The IPA Climate Committee works to bring psychoanalytic ideas to bear on understanding the climate emergency. We focus on the human climate and how it drives physical climate derangement and vice versa.

Areas of our current work include:

- Writing and giving talks on the relevance of psychoanalysis to understanding the climate emergency and how it affects our work with patients and society at large
- Learning from other cultures about how to perceive nature and living differently
- Focusing on climate anxiety and climate trauma in children and adolescents and adults
- Working to embed the area of climate and the environment as an integral part of psychoanalytic training
- We undertook a research project in the Himalayas in India to study the effects on local people of severe climate impacts

This is an opportunity to meet the committee, find out what they are doing and have a discussion. Should you want to start thinking about this now, please send your questions to valeriecuren@hotmail.com
